Whether you are a working artist or you haven't picked up a crayon since grammar school, the "Messing Around with Creativity" workshop is for you. Everyone is creative, but most of us never fully explore that idea. That's what this workshop is designed to do.

We'll spend two hours focused on finding and expressing the creativity that is buried within you. During this fun, interactive, hands-on workshop, we explore how the creative process works so that you can apply it not only to traditional artistic pursuits, but to life in general.

Absolutely no art experience is necessary, just an open mind and a willingness to play, discover and have fun. Adults only, please.
